Favorite series

My favorite series is Better Call Saul, because its writing and tone are unique and extremely well-crafted. The plot develops at a totally unpredictable pace, while the abusive relationships between the characters are always heartbreaking and morally ambiguous.

The last series you binge-watched

I just finished Watchmen. I'm a huge fan of the original comic, which may explain why I found this series more interesting than beautiful. However, it was well worth watching for how Damon Lindelof expands the source material according to his own vision.

The next series you planned to watch

I'm looking forward to watch The New Pope. It's the follow-up series to The Young Pope, which was a wonderfully odd exploration of power, faith, and the trauma of abandonment. Literally anything could happen in this new season, especially with the new character played by John Malkovich.

A character of a series you could embody

I could totally be Chandler Bing from Friends. I'm quite frank and I often use self-irony and sarcasm to overcome social awkwardness: as all the characters in that show, I am my better self when I'm with my closest, old-time friends.
